

Our Mission

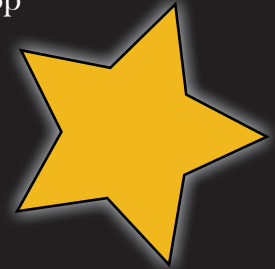

The mission of On Point for College is to open the doors to higher education for inner city youth; to break down the barriers that hinder potential students from entering college; and to provide support that empowers them to succeed.

Whom do we serve?

Young people who live in the Greater Syracuse area and who believe that college is unattainable because of financial reasons, despite their desire to attend college. Most of these young people are the first person in their family to attend college, and they come from Syracuse inner-city neighborhoods.

Changing Syracuse degree by degree

For nearly 10 years, On Point for College has been dedicated to helping low-income Syracuse youth achieve their dream to continue their pursue higher education.

During that time, more than 1,600 students have enrolled in 170 colleges and universities as a direct result of the On Point for College program. And 98 percent of them were the first person in their family to attend college!

Most impressively, more than 84 percent of On Point for College students return to college for their sophomore year -- well above the national average retention rate.

Help us help them

Starting college can be a difficult experience for any student ... but that struggle is magnified for those who lack the economic resources for many of the necessary "little things" many of us take for granted. Items like bedding, bath towels, notebooks, calculators, flash drives, dictionaries, alarm clocks, school clothes and even transportation to and from school.

More than 82 percent of all funds raised by On Point go directly to provide students with these essentials, so they can concentrate on what really matters -- their academics.
